

War On Ideological Must Continue
Coexistence Impossible,
Says Soviet Theoretician

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet communism Sunday sharpened its battle of ideas with the West.

Pravda published a long speech by Mikhail Suslov, top party theoretician, declaring that in the realm of ideology peaceful coexistence with the West is impossible.

The speech was made Jan. 30 before directors and professors of social science institutions. It opened a drive to lead the country to more active acceptance of doctrines outlined at last October's 22nd party Congress.

Nikita Khrushchev himself, while a professed advocate of peaceful coexistence on the practical plane, has often pressed the idea that war on the ideological side must continue.

The Suslov speech appeared to be a direct answer to President Kennedy's suggestion in his last interview last year that trouble in the world is caused by the active preaching and pressure of the advance of communism.

"Can we consider that peaceful coexistence exists in the sphere of ideology?" Suslov asked. "Of course not. Among some people in the U.S.S.R. still exist remnants of capitalism. They sponge, steal, bribe, conduct hooliganism, bureaucracy, promote religious ideology.

"Is the peaceful coexistence of our Socialist ideology with such phenomena possible?"

"Impossible. Impossible without betrayal of the interests of communism."

"What does the bourgeois ideology consist of?"

"It is vicious anticommunism, a propaganda of hatred toward communism, shameless slander of socialism, propaganda of military aggression, ideological defense of a system of hired slavery and colonialist enslavement."

"Is some sort on conciliation possible, at least temporarily, with that ideology?"

"It is impossible and unthinkable. This would amount to ideological disarmament for Communists."

What It Means

"Peaceful coexistence means giving up war, the solution of outstanding questions between states through negotiations. Finally, peaceful coexistence is the economic competition of states."

With bourgeois ideology, Suslov went on, "we must conduct a resolute struggle."

Communist scholars, he asserted, "must lay bare the aggressive policy of the Imperialist countries and their financial-industrial oligarchies, the activity of military blocs. Of particular importance is the analysis of the home and foreign policy of American imperialism—the main stronghold of international reaction."

In the published portions of his speech, and some were omitted, Suslov made no mention of Communist China, which maintains the old Communist theory that war with capitalism is inevitable, although he lashed out again at Albania, Red China's tiny ally in the ideological struggle.

7 Military Men Die In Plane Crash

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—An Air Force C47 crashed and burned while attempting a takeoff at Greensboro-High Point Airport Sunday. Seven persons, all military personnel, were killed.

Witnesses said the plane rose in an abnormal manner to an altitude of 150 to 200 feet, then veered to the left, crashed and burst into flames.

Guilford County Coroner R. B. Davis Jr. said he was told eight persons may have been aboard, but hours after the crash only seven bodies had been found.

Names of the victims were withheld, pending notification of next of kin. However, it was learned that one of those killed was Capt. Robert Sanford of Greensboro, who boarded the plane at Greensboro.

The plane was based at Hurlburt Field, an auxiliary field of Eglin Air Force Base, Fla. It left Hurlburt Friday for McGuire AFB, N.J., and was returning Sunday. It had stopped at Philadelphia and made a stop at Greensboro, Sanford, 34, came to Greensboro for a weekend visit and was to have returned to Hurlburt on the plane.

Witnesses said the plane landed at Greensboro shortly before 4 p.m. and shut down one engine while several persons got aboard.

With no further delay, the pilot restarted the engine, taxied onto the runway and began the takeoff.

Nationalist Chinese Usher
In New Year With Holiday

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Barages of firecrackers popped Monday as the Year of the Tiger—symbolizing courage and ferocity—began at midnight for the Chinese.

On this Nationalist outpost, Chinese mingled their new year revelry with hopes they can display the characteristics of the tiger in a comeback against the Chinese Communists on the mainland.

Nationalist Chinese are sticking to their tradition of ushering in the new year—No. 4659—by shooting off firecrackers and gorging themselves with duck, turkey, fruits and nuts—and maybe some black market liquor.

But because of a wartime-like austerity, many Nationalists tried to make do with a little less this year.

A lot of money which ordinarily would have been spent on holiday foodstuffs and gifts was lacking because government employees on all levels did not receive a New Year's bonus.

Even with a shortage of money, however, traditional private new year's gambling was going on and, just as traditionally, police were turning their backs on it.

People stocked up well in advance on food and other essentials since stores and business establishments will be closed for three to five days.

No Universal Disasters Occur
Doomsday Passes Quietly

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The dreaded serpent Rahu slithered across the heavens early Monday and swallowed the sun. No universal disasters occurred.

For all the soothsayers' blood-chilling predictions of universal calamities, the eclipse of the sun behind the moon went off over the Pacific somewhat uneventfully.

Hindu stargazers had warned millions of frightened Indians during the night to be prepared for the very worst. Saturday was the start of their doomsday period and they expected dire calamities.

When nothing too terrible transpired they were sure that meant merely the worst horrors would come when the sun was swallowed.

Solar Blackout

But out in New Guinea a team of Japanese scientists reported observing the solar blackout for nearly three minutes and nothing unusual resulted. Other points along the eclipse path over the Pacific also witnessed the phenomenon in various stages. The world went spinning as usual.

To astronomers, this eclipse of the sun, while no earth shaker, was somewhat more interesting than the usual peek-a-boo the sun plays behind the moon. It involved a rare conjunction of Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and the Earth.

The Hindu holy men considered it rare, all right.

"What a terrible time the serpent Raha has chosen to devour our protesting sun god," said Swami Yagiraj, one of 250 Hindu holy men conducting mass prayer meetings in New Delhi.

Another Hindu holy man said similar meetings going on throughout India and Nepal were designed to save the two countries from the wrath of the gods.

"Of course, we are praying for the rest of the world, too," he added.

To appease the gods, the Hindu holy men dropped butter and other food in sacred fires.

Sporting events went on as usual in India Sunday. But in the back alleys of cities and in rural villages, many men and women spent their time praying.

Transport Defies Mortar
Fire To Land In Laos

IN A PLANE OVER NAM THA, Laos (AP)—Royal army transport planes defied Communist mortar fire aimed at the Nam Tha's airstrip Sunday and landed reinforcements at the menaced provincial capital. The attackers rejected a cease-fire offer and the battle goes on.

Four Dakotas of World War II vintage set down at short intervals and disgorged troops on the deserted airstrip. No plane stayed on the ground more than four minutes. Mortar shells landed on the southern end of the unpaved airstrip, kicking up clouds of dust and smoke.

Hurles Indictments
On Kennedy, OAS

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro Sunday night hurled a scathing indictment at the United States and accused President Kennedy of compounding "felony with hypocrisy" with his ban on Cuban products.

"The old order is cracking," Castro told a roaring mass of supporters as he spoke under a powerful bank of spotlights. He roared his defiance of the Organization of American States, which voted to expel his Communist regime, and he predicted revolution would sweep Latin America "like a march of giants."

The bearded Castro called Kennedy "impudent" for his order Friday tightening the U.S. economic squeeze on Cuba.

U.S. administration officials in Washington estimate the action will cost Cuba $35 million a year and will be a severe blow to Castro's plans to export communism to other Latin-American countries.

Castro submitted to a monster crowd spread in front of him a so-called Declaration of Havana denouncing the United States and

DeG To Talk
On Algerian
Independence

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — French police Sunday shot and killed one member of the terrorist Secret Army Organization, wounded a second and captured four others in a spurt of violence on the eve of President Charles de Gaulle's radio-TV address to the French people.

Along with France, Algeria waited to hear what De Gaulle had a say about the Algerian problem—and possibly about the results of secret negotiations between the French and Algerian nationalists.

Thousands of Europeans signed petitions here in a snowballing campaign to protest De Gaulle's plans for Algerian independence under Moslem rule.

Speakers told a cheering Algiers rally that riot police, soldiers and government officials were among 30,000 signers of petitions entitled, "I am a Frenchman. I don't need to determine myself."

The nonviolent campaign, only Saturday, appeared to be independent of the Secret Army Organization, which is sworn to keep Algeria part of France.

A government spokesman said in special riot police operating on a tip moved against a villa near the coast in the western suburb of Pointe Pescade. The villa was suspected of being a Secret Army hideout.

As the riot troops surrounded the villa, occupants of the house opened fire. Police fired back. The group inside broke out to flee and in a brief sharp exchange of gunfire one of the persons was slain and another wounded.

Penna. Farmlands Linked To JFK's Urban Proposal

HARRISBURG (AP) — The future of Pennsylvania agriculture has been linked to urban land needs under the terms of President Kennedy's proposed farm program.

U.S. Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman declared Saturday that one of the main long-term objectives of the Kennedy plan is to take 50 million acres of farm land out of production nationally by 1980 to help curb surplus production.

Freeman declined to pinpoint what proportion of the 50 million acres would come from agriculture in Pennsylvania and the other northeastern states.

"The idea is to reach land close to the urban areas," Freeman told a news conference prior to meeting with some 1,500 farm leaders from Pennsylvania and neighboring states to explain the administration's farm plans.

"We will want to make it worth while for private farm land owners to put their land into recreational uses," Freeman said.

But he made it clear that the conversion program is not aimed at so-called marginal farm lands.

To encourage the program, matching-fund legislation will be sought, he indicated, along the same lines as urban renewal and area development funds are now provided.

The meeting with the farm leaders in Harrisburg was set up by U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark and Gov. David L. Lawrence. It was the third in the past few days held by Freeman to explain the President's proposals.

Freeman stressed that there is no intention of letting land lie fallow without being used. He said the administration does not plan to revive the soil bank program of former President Eisenhower under which farmers were paid to keep the land idle.

In Pennsylvania, Freeman said, the redevelopment of the state's agriculture could become part of Lawrence's proposed Project 70.

That $70 million program would create system of parks and reservoirs across the Commonwealth.

Freeman told the farm group that the Kennedy program is trying to come to grips with these facts, as he listed them:

Capacity to produce surplus will continue and increase.

Agriculture cannot adjust its problems by itself.

The public can no longer be expected to pay for surplus production.

Submits First
Redistricting
School Plan

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Public Instruction Department said Sunday Fayette County was the first to submit a reorganization plan under Pennsylvania's controversial school district reorganization program.

"The school directors and administrators in Fayette County have done a tremendous amount of work," said Dr. Charles H. Boehm, department superintendent.

"Not only did those in positions of leadership acquaint themselves with the provisions of the act, but they carried the message to all 40 school boards in the county, community organizations and to the people."

Dr. Ralph C. Swan, deputy superintendent for school administrative services, said a detailed study will be made of the Fayette County program as soon as possible.

If any minor changes or clarifications in the plan are required, there will be another conference with the county representatives before submitting it to the state council on education, Swan explained.

The Fayette County plan reorganizes 40 small schools into six large administrative units of 7,164 pupils, 4,534, 5,642, 7,767, 6,149 and 5,583 pupils.

Follow Up
The Council of the Organization of American States meets Wednesday to follow up on Punta del Este recommendations against the Castro regime. The meeting included a clampdown on illicit Cuban arms shipments to other American countries.

By getting some 200,000 modern small arms from the Red bloc, Castro was reported able to release older, Western-made weapons for subversive operations in this hemisphere.

Current information here is that in a first round of massive military assistance, delivered mainly between the fall of 1960 and late summer 1961, the Communist bloc shipped to Cuba: 50-100 MIG jet fighters; 150-200 medium and heavy tanks; 50-100 assault guns; 500-1,000 pieces of field artillery; 500-1,000 pieces of anti-aircraft artillery; 500 mortars; 200-300 small arms; 4,000 trucks and other vehicles.

Goldberg Sees
Steel Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg predicted Sunday there is better than a 50-50 chance for an early and responsible steel labor contract agreement without a strike.

Goldberg, former general counsel of the Steelworkers Union, hinted that he expects emphasis in the negotiations to be more on contract changes to preserve worker jobs than on higher wages.

As far as shortening work hours, an objective that Steelworker Union leaders have been talking about most frequently, Goldberg reiterated that "it is not in the national interest to reduce the work week" at the present time.

The labor secretary said in a recorded TV broadcast — WTTG TV network — "Opinion in the Capital" — that he couldn't say in advance what the Steelworkers Union or its members may want in new contract terms.

Scots Awaiting Christmas
Mail Delayed By Storms

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — The 56 inhabitants of Foula Island sure would like to have a change in the weather. They would like to see what's in the Christmas mail.

Foula is one of the Shetland Islands off the north of Scotland. For 47 days it has been cut off from the rest of the Shetlands and from the Scottish mainland by storms in the North Atlantic.

Despite the isolation, Postmaster Harry Gair told a reporter by radiotelephone Sunday: "It's not too serious yet. Last winter was worse—77 days without the boat being able to come near us."

Foula's 17 families, all fishermen, say they have enough food to last for a week or two yet. What they really miss is the mail. The last delivery was Dec. 19.

Foula is a spike of rock 3 miles by 1½ sticking straight out of the Atlantic. Its cliffs tower 1,300 feet above the ocean. Its school has seven children, all under 11. The older ones go to school on the mainland.

Many small Scottish islands have been abandoned by crofters and fishermen who felt the pull of the towns.

But not Foula.

"People seem to like living here," said Gair. "Many have been on the mainland (meaning

ADA Supporting
Dilworth, Clark

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Americans for Democratic Action has endorsed Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination and U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., for re-election.

The ADA gave its endorsements Saturday night prior to the group's southeastern chapter's 14th annual Roosevelt Day dinner.

Dilworth has resigned as Mayor effective Feb. 12, but has not officially announced his candidacy.

So far 32 of 55 Democratic county leaders have indicated a preference for Dilworth, according to State Democratic Chairman Otis B. Morse.

Dilworth also has received the support of the executive council of the Pennsylvania AFL-CIO. Clark also favors Dilworth as a running mate.

Family Reads
Home Bible,
Says Schempp

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Edward L. Schempp, though happy he fought and won a suit against bible reading in Pennsylvania's public schools, says his family frequently reads the bible in their suburban Roslyn home.

"We believe that more bible reading might be good for Americans," says Schempp.

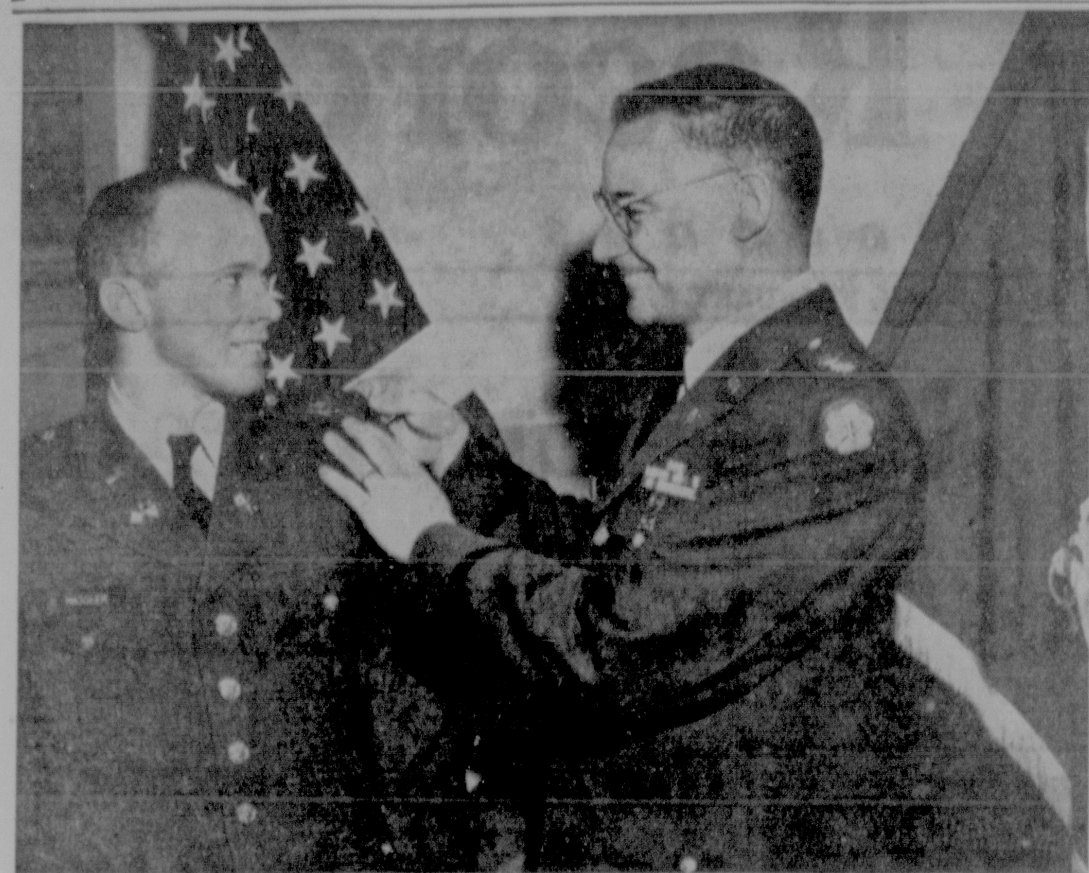

"But we do object to the law which says that 10 verses must be read in the school without comment," he added, explaining it makes school children a "captive from the bible out of context." He adds:

"And this is done in an aura of worship in which these special, particular words, often confusing, are apparently the word of God, with the blessing and authority of the state."

Such reading, out of context and without comment might help "plant the seeds of bigotry, hate and intolerance," Schempp alleges.

James H. Eagle, Veteran Newsman, Dies In Allentown

JAMES Hillborn Eagle, veteran newsman and former editor of the East Stroudsburg Morning Sun for 11 years, died early Saturday morning in Sacred Heart Hospital, Allentown.

Mr. Eagle, who was 66, had a varied career in the newspaper profession. For the past 17 years, he had been on the copy desk of the Evening Chronicle, Allentown and on Saturday nights on the staff of the Allentown Sunday Call-Chronicle.

Prior to that, he worked on several Allentown papers and also in Reading. Before returning to the Allentown Evening Chronicle in 1945, he was assistant city editor of the Reading Times.

Apart from his newspaper career, Mr. Eagle was noted as a woodsman, naturalist, athlete, artist, acrobat and swimmer.

Funeral services will be held on Friday. The services will be held at the Stanley S. Stephens funeral home, 1335-37 Linden St., Allentown at 10:30 a.m.

He was hospitalized last week. Following an operation last Monday, he was reported doing well and apparently was on his way to recovery. His condition became worse suddenly Saturday night and he died before members of the family could reach his bedside.

Some Taxes Allowed As Deductions

STATE and local taxes (but not federal taxes) are deductible on page 2 of Form 1040, U. S. individual income tax return, by individuals not electing to take the standard deduction. Taxpayers electing the standard deduction may still deduct taxes related to a trade or business in other appropriate schedules of the tax return.

Real Estate Taxes

Real estate taxes on a residence may be deducted, regardless of whether the taxes are paid by the taxpayer directly or by the mortgage company out of funds supplied by the taxpayer. If real estate is sold during the year, the tax deduction must be apportioned between the seller and the buyer according to the number of days that each owns the property, regardless of whether the buyer and seller are on the cash or the accrual basis. The apportionment is usually shown on the real estate settlement sheet.

Assessments for local benefits, such as street, sidewalk, and other similar improvements, are not deductible, except when assessed for the purpose of maintenance and repair, or of meeting interest charges on local benefits.

Sales Taxes

Sales and use taxes are deductible. Since it would be difficult to collect a bill for every small taxable item you buy, a reasonable estimate of the amount of tax you paid may be acceptable. The Internal Revenue Service provides tables of estimates for most states.

Checklist — Taxes Deductible

Following is a checklist of Pennsylvania taxes deductible by individuals: Admissions taxes, alcoholic beverages (state only), auto license fees, cooperative housing — real estate tax assessment, drivers' license fees, cigarette tax (6c per pack if purchased in Pa.) gasoline tax (7c per gallon if purchased in Pa.), local income or wage taxes, occupational license fees, personal property tax, real estate tax, sales and use tax (4% on taxable items purchased or used in Pa.), state and local real estate transfer tax.

Checklist — Taxes Not Deductible

The following are not deductible as taxes: Auto title fees, auto inspection fees, dog tags, federal admissions tax, federal dues and initiation fees, federal estate tax, federal excise tax, federal gift tax, federal import duties, federal income tax, federal old age benefit contributions by employees, federal railroad retirement tax on employees, federal self-employment tax, hunting and fishing licenses, marriage licenses, parking meter charges, Pennsylvania inheritance tax, Water and sewer rent.

Vacationland Assn. Seeks Membership

BARRETT — The Pocono Vacationland Association voted to petition the Pocono Mountain Vacation Bureau for membership at their Wednesday night meeting.

Members had been discussing the merger for some time. Eric Schuchard, vice president of the bureau and Clarence Rutt, program director, were speakers on the subject.

The Pocono Vacationland Association will continue work in Barrett. They will be members of the Pocono Mountain Vacation Bureau and hold full membership privileges.

Donald Biles was re-elected president for the year. Mrs. Marie Price, vice president and taking office for the first time were: Charles Sieg, secretary and Barbara Carlton, treasurer. Biles appointed chairman of various committees: Reeve Price, sign committee; William Seig, booklet distribution; Donald Biles, booklet make-up; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Daniels, banquet chairman and Mrs. Elvira Carlton, membership.

An executive meeting will be held Feb. 7 at the home of Mrs. Elvira Carlton. The regular meeting will be held Monday, Feb. 12 at Pine Knob beginning at 8:15 p.m.

Building In Cities Increases

NEW YORK (AP) — The value of building permits in 200 leading cities rose sharply in December, Dun & Bradstreet's business economics department reported yesterday.

Volume came to $965,000,388, more than 42 per cent higher than the $672,227,003 in the preceding month and considerably above the comparable year-ago level.

Cause Of Peace
VATICAN CITY (AP) — A $25,000 prize established for an African personality aiding the cause of peace is being used instead to rebuild ravaged missions in Africa. The St. Pope Pius V. Institute, which handles the prize, says the past year "did not produce a man to whom such a prize could be given without question."

Dilworth Seeks End Of Tolls On Pa. Turnpike

Tobyhanna Area Group Asks Traffic Patrol At Depot

AT A RECENT meeting of the Tobyhanna Community Council, it was voted to contact the Coolbaugh Township Board of Supervisors concerning the continuance of a traffic policeman at the intersection of Main and Church Streets between the hours of 4:30 p.m. and 4:50 p.m.

Such an action would greatly expedite the council said. The southbound flow of traffic from the Tobyhanna Signal Depot during this period.

The council also voted to cooperate in any way possible with Capt. Glenn Ellingsworth, club officer of Tobyhanna Signal Depot, in sponsoring teenage dances.

The first dance is to be held at the Officers Club on Feb. 17 between 8 and 12 p.m. The Council considers this a good gesture on the part of the Signal Depot. The dance will have live music and is open to all Pocono Mountain teenagers of ages 13 to 19.

A nominal fee will be charged which will cover the cost of the band. Sandwiches and soft drinks will be on sale also.

The Community Council will name two or three persons who will chaperone the dances. During the meeting, the council was presented a check from St. Ann's Catholic Church to cover operating expenses of the council. The Council depends on donations for its work. The council noted that the donation was "very much appreciated."

The officers for the year 1962 were elected at the meeting. In all cases they were the incumbents: Mrs. P. D. Frankenhof, president; Harold Shannon, vice president; Harry G. Fuqua, secretary-treasurer.

The council was well attended including several visitors.

Savings Bond Committee To Meet Feb. 7

MEMBERS of U. S. Savings Bond committees from twelve counties in Northeastern Pennsylvania will meet in Scranton on Wednesday, February 7, to plan a program of action for 1962.

Highlighting the year's activities will be the Freedom Bond Drive which will take place in May and June.

Frank E. Hemelright, volunteer area chairman for Northeastern Pennsylvania, will preside at an afternoon conference to be followed by dinner.

Participating in the program will be Charles S. Krumrine, volunteer state chairman, and Treasury representatives from the state and area offices.

The meeting will be held at Hotel Casey. Volunteers making up the gathering will come from Bradford, Carbon, Columbia, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Monroe, Montour, Pike, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming counties.

Dilworth, expected to officially announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor next week, has resigned as mayor of Philadelphia's biggest city after six years in the job, effective Feb. 12.

The shortway, under construction with 90 per cent federal financing, is scheduled to be opened as a toll-free road by 1970. It also is an east-west highway, running from Stroudsburg to Sharon along Northern Pennsylvania.

Dilworth said truckers using the shortway will be able to go from Ohio to New York as rapidly as to Philadelphia and at less cost. At Stroudsburg the shortway is to link up with a New Jersey freeway to New York City.

Dilworth noted that as long as the turnpike is a toll road there can be no federal aid for improving it. Several private groups have been seeking means of expediting payment of $371.3 million in turnpike bonds.

This would permit lifting of tolls and access to federal funds. However, by one report, there is little hope the turnpike bonds can be repaid until about 1972. Tunneling or bypass projects contemplated for Western Pennsylvania could push this back to 1975.

Barrett Scout Troop Has Very Busy Season Planned

BARRETT — Boy Scout Troop 89, Barrett, has been engaged in rugged camping. They list one experience high in excitement. During an overnight hike, it poured rain. They have engaged in hikes and swimming meets.

The 20 boy troop expects new members soon for the Wheeloes den of Cub Scouts. They are guided by Scoutmaster, Robert C. Weidner Jr., and assistant Scoutmaster, Ivan Wicks Jr.

Rev. George Weinland is chairman of the troop committee. Associated with the work done in the troop are Richard Shoemaker, treasurer; John Styk, forest and conservation chairman; Jake Garrett, advancement chairman and Harry Ridger, Neighborhood Commissioner.

Troop 89 has taken honors in competition with other area troops both at Camporees and First Aid meets.

Recently, the boys were given permission to use a tract of land owned by Hedwig Linder, Hillside Lodge, Canadensis for developing a campsite. Elwood Johnson, John Styk and Allen Oppelt will lead their patrols into the more than 20 acre tract to choose campsites. The patrols will then build a fireplace, camping and eating area. Tables will be cut from logs and finished in a rough manner.

The troop has an area cleared monies and use on parent with seats for outdoor ceremonies.

Highlight of the scouting year will be a week at Camp Weygand. The majority of the troop expects to attend.

Police Check Theft In Church

IT WAS learned last night from a reliable source that Stroudsburg Police are investigating a theft $30 from the Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

The money was taken during the 11 a.m. service from a room containing the clothing and purses of members of the choir.

County Request For State Grant Now Being Processed

Record Harrisburg Bureau

HARRISBURG, Feb. 3 — The State Department of Public Welfare said yesterday it is processing an application of Monroe County Commissioners for a grant of $1,000 from state funds to assist in improving juvenile court probation services and developing crime prevention programs for juveniles in Monroe County.

Decision on the application will be made in the near future, the department said.

The application was made by the commissioners under Act 46A — enacted by the 1961 Legislature — which provided for grants to governmental subdivisions of Pennsylvania to aid in combating juvenile delinquency.

Included in the objectives for which grants are made are:

1 — Establishment of a paid probation service in a juvenile court that previously did not have such service.

2 — Expansion of paid probation service in a juvenile court that has had inadequate service because of insufficient probation staff.

3 — Training programs for probation officers or supervisors.

According to the department grants will be made available under the Act only if the "Standards and recommendations for the operation of juvenile probation offices, as prescribed by the Juvenile Court Judges' Commission are accepted as governing future operations of the court."

Grants are based on population units with a minimum grant of $1,000 in any case.

One Injured At Rt.80-611 Intersection

STROUD Township Chief of Police H. W. Tebbis investigated a two car accident yesterday at 8:45 p.m. at the intersection of Routes 80 and 611. One person was slightly injured.

Chief Tebbis identified the injured woman, a driver of one car, as Mrs. Ruth Kelper of 826 Sarah St., Stroudsburg. She was treated for a bruised right arm in Monroe County General Hospital and released.

Mrs. Kelper told police that she was traveling south on route 611 and was hit by Miss Elaine B. Casco, 22, of Palmyra, N. Y., when the New York woman failed to stop for the stop sign. Miss Casco was traveling north on Route 80.

Chief Tebbis estimated damage to the Kelper car at $700 and to the Casco vehicle at $500. He said he would file charges against Miss Casco for failure to stop at a stop sign.

Brakes Fail, Cause Two Car Crash In Eastburg

EAST Stroudsburg Police investigated a two car accident yesterday at 3 p.m. in the intersection of Prospect and W.

Car Skids, Crashes Into Trailer Rig

ROBERT Schroedel, 52, of Scranton, escaped injury Friday night when his car skidded on icy Route 209, near Snyder'sville, and crashed into the rear of a parked tractor-trailer.

State Police from Stroudsburg barracks said both vehicles were traveling west on Route 209. Eugene May, 23, of Mountain-top, driver of the rig, had stopped to investigate a frozen fuel line. He said he was parked on the right side and off the highway.

The Schroedel car skidded out of control and smashed into the rear of the trailer.

State Police said the car was a total loss and damage to the trailer was slight.

Accident Victim Reported 'Fair'

FRANK Hanusosky, 43, of Farmingdale RD 3, injured in an automobile accident Saturday at 3:10 a.m., was reported in "fair" condition by a spokesman for the Monroe County General Hospital.

State Police from Fern Ridge barracks investigated the accident and said Hanusosky lost control of his car as he came south on Route 115 near Effort. The car slid on icy highway and crashed into a guard rail.

Hanusosky suffered chest injuries and cuts to the mouth. He was taken to the hospital by the West End Ambulance Association.

Pleads Guilty To Larceny Charge

HARRY M. Andrew, of East Stroudsburg RD 2, pleaded guilty Saturday to a charge of larceny by an employee before Justice of the Peace Floyd Kellogg, Stroudsburg.

Andrew agreed to make full restitution and the charge, placed by Sear, Roebuck and Co., were withdrawn and he was released.

The arrest was made by George J. Butler of Sear, Roebuck and Co.

Search For Edward Maps Enters Its Third Week

THE search for Edward H. Maps, 39, Stroudsburg, artist-sculptor and alleged murderer enters its third week with the speculation concerning his disappearance now turning to the possibility of suicide.

Stroudsburg Chief of Police John B. Tretheway said the search for Maps could drag on for months if he (Maps) decided to kill himself in a concealed place.

It is also possible that the body might never be found if he went into the woods of the area before taking his life, he added. Chief Tretheway said, "The sculptor-artist might have concealed his suicide in the hope that the deaths of his wife, Mrs. Christine Maps, and his four-month-old daughter, Julia, would remain a mystery and that some doubt would linger as to whether he were the perpetrator of the crimes of which he is accused."

Maps was last seen on the night of Jan. 21 about one and a half hours before the bodies of his wife and daughter were found in the burning, smoke-filled house, by Stroudsburg firemen.

Mrs. Maps died in the Monroe County General Hospital, Jan. 22 at 2:40 a.m. as a result of a blow on the head. The baby died from smoke inhalation and was dead on arrival at the hospital.

Logical Reasons

We Americans, on the average, have more money to spend than we had a year ago. Pay scales are higher. There are, in many lines, more good jobs available. Going by the standard indices, the recession of 1961 ended quite awhile back.

Yet seasonally adjusted unemployment rates continue to run close to the level of a year ago. Something like 6 per cent of the people who want to work aren't able to find work.

Why does this anomaly exist? There is, of course, no single answer. But one can place a finger on important causes of substantial unemployment in the period of high industrial and business activity. And one of these, according to leading economists, is the increase in the minimum wage, and the extension of federal wage-hour law coverage, that occurred last September.

Opinions Of Other Editors

It's A Matter Of Time

Governor Lawrence has fulfilled an earlier promise by placing "Project 70" before the Legislature and, in doing so, he made out a clear and convincing case.

It is "a plan with profound implications for the future of the Commonwealth," said the Governor, and he's right, for it is shaped to meet one of the more critical problems of our times—wise use of the land.

The backbone of "Project 70" is a $70 million bond issue to finance purchase of recreation, open space and wildlife lands around our large and expanding population centers. Since such financing requires a constitutional amendment and, therefore, the approval of the voters of Pennsylvania, the Legislature is being asked only to take the first action to get the question before the electorate. Even so, this action will imply legislative approval to some extent of the plan itself as well as the considerable cost by deficit financing. In bidding for support, the Governor went out of his way to play down what might be considered Utopian in "Project 70" and to play up its practical aspects. These are very real and can be boiled down to three points:

1—Not only people but the kind of industry this State seeks is gravitating more and more to area where the atmosphere of living is attractive. An important part of this "livability," as state officials have come to call it, is open space, pleasant scenery and opportunities for outdoor recreation.

2—The State's present pay-as-you-go system of acquiring park land is not keeping pace either with urban sprawl in some areas or with the mushrooming recreational demands of the population. Bond issue financing would give much

This increase barred from jobs workers, because of inexperience or some other cause, simply weren't worth the higher rates to the employer.

There should be a moral in this for the future—as further increases, and further extensions, are urged on Congress. Take, for example, retail trade which, by its nature, offers work and learning opportunities for the unskilled. But retailing operates on an extremely modest profit margin in an intensely competitive business climate.

So, if wages are forced beyond a certain point, by artificial means, fewer marginal workers will be able to find jobs.

It's an old story. When wage levels fail to take account of productivity, unemployment becomes a constant problem.

more assurance of getting needed land before it is priced beyond reach.

3—In the Delaware River Basin especially, federal-state plans are progressing for development of our water resources, largely through the construction of reservoirs. If the State is ready with money to buy adjacent lands, these projects offer a most economical opportunity for establishing new park sites with full recreational advantages.

One of the best parts of the plan is the proposal to use $20 million of the $70 million as matching grants to local communities that develop their own park and open space programs. The Governor was understanding the matter when he said that "generally speaking, local communities have not done enough" in this direction. The use of incentive payments will increase the chances for local-state partnership in the cause of conservation.

The State Planning Board, which drew up "Project 70," established the principle of paying for developing the parks with funds from the Capital Budget. Later, in what could be viewed as an attempt to toss a sweetener to rural legislators and voters, the development part of "Project 70" was expanded to include plans for a diversified recreation industry in the mountainous and wooded sections of Pennsylvania. This idea, however, is defensible on its own merits, and there's no reason why it should not be part of Pennsylvania's overall conservation program.

The Legislature should view "Project 70" as a vital investment, both in human and economic terms. And it is an investment in which time is an important factor. That's why the procedure for getting the bond issue question on the ballot should start this year.

Humanity Guild, Inc.

I have a circular which asks me to contribute money. It comes from "Humanity Guild, Inc." It wants the money to bring about immediate peace, which it cannot, of course, do. Whether we shall have peace or war depends upon many forces and personalities, upon the effects of many errors of judgement in Soviet Russia and the United States, in Great Britain and France and among the 104 nations that constitute the United Nations.

The circular asking me for money starts thus: "Will you save my life??" "Since I may not meet anything to you..." "Will you save your life??" "Will you save your children's lives??"

Humanity Guild, Inc. provides you with your opportunity to act now to avoid the catastrophe which faces you and your family.

This strikes me as silly talk by someone who writes emotional prose. The fellow wants me to save his life when I do not know that his particular life is in danger. The lives of some of the members of my family may be in danger or soon will be, for they are or will be in the armed service of their country. I do not expect that a few dollars will serve to rescue them from the cowardice that the writer of the frantic circular wishes them to display.

The circular says: "The only immediate solution for peace on earth now is total disarmament which should include the elimination of all stockpiles of atom bombs at once from all countries which possess its capabilities for destruction of the world and mankind."

Precisely how does its writer plan to achieve total disarmament? The United States has been in negotiation with Soviet Russia on this subject since about 1945 and has got nowhere. In fact, the United Nations was organized to achieve this end. But Soviet Russia has vetoed every measure for peace. Are we to crawl on our knees before the big bosses in the Kremlin? Are we to lie on our bellies and have their tanks roll over Hungarians and the Tibetans?

Presumably there are all sorts of circulars being issued which are designed to weaken our resistance to our enemy. This particular circular is frightening: "What if a nuclear attack is coupled with a gas or bacteria attack?"

"What if the H-bomb jackets are made of cobalt, which would increase fallout immeasurably?"

"What if instead of ground bursts the bombs are exploded at high altitude?"

Fritz Kreisler, who died a few days ago, was hit by a truck and became blind and deaf. Shall we therefore abolish trucks? Shall we murder all truck-drivers? I loved Fritz, but I am sure that because a truck brought misery to the last years of his life, I do not want to return to an ox-cart or a camel or a mule.

Nor do I want to become a slave of the Kremlin. Why do not these lovers of peace go to Moscow and issue their circulars on the Red Square? Why do they not get the miserable peasant, Khrushchev, to agree to a world program of unselfish peace? It would seem that their solution to the problems that face the United States today is to lie down and die while Russians march over our bodies.

No! I shall not contribute a nickel to "Humanity Guild, Inc." Instead, I shall pay my taxes for arms to be ready to fight Soviet Russia.

The last line of the circular says "Humanity Guild, Inc. is a non-profit organization."

I have grown tired of so-called non-profit organizations. In fact when a non-profit organization hereafter sends me a circular asking for money, I am going to ask for a detailed expense account. It is easier and tax-wise smarter to get no salary at all, but to have enormous expense accounts for hotel bills and airplanes and travel hither and yon. When a money collector comes my way asking for dollars for a non-profit organization, I shall ask him the details of his livelihood. Where does he get the dough to buy his wife's dresses? Or who paid for his automobile?

Lets us not be tricked by circulars and smart words. We have a war that this year will run our budget up to $32,000,000,000. As a taxpayer, I want to win that war and end it.

Harrisburg—This week is "High Blood Pressure Week" on Capitol Hill!

This is the week the bolt is scheduled to be shot. It may go into orbit—or it may fall back a dud.

Today is the day House GOP Minority Floor Leader Albert W. Johnson is scheduled to introduce in the lower chamber his controversial and potentially explosive $9 million amendment covering supplemental aid to school districts designed to overcome the subsidy-freeze veto by Governor Lawrence during the past 1961 session.

Importance of this "tidy fiscal item" lies in the fact that virtually every local school district in the State (outside of the big city school districts in the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh areas) would be on the receiving end under the projected Johnson amendment. In fact, to be affected would be some 2000 districts.

The Johnson amendment slated for introduction today would be tacked on to the deficiency appropriation bill now before the House. It is aimed solely at eliminating the state subsidy losses these 2000 school districts will receive this spring—losses resulting from the increases in market values certified last year by the State Tax Equalization Board.

The Pennsylvania Story

Blood Pressure Week

One of the more challenging and interesting aspects of this school subsidy whoring-ding is that during the past 1961 legislative session, the handwriting was clearly on the wall, as to what would happen on the state aid front insofar as local districts were concerned.

The Legislature acted. It cleared legislation that would "freeze" state school subsidy payments at the previous year's minimums—to avoid the very $9 million loss school districts now face this spring.

However, the notorious "freeze" legislation was vetoed by Mr. Lawrence—on grounds sufficient funds were not available to cover it. Anti-administration Republican lawmakers insisted at the time there would indeed be adequate funds.

The full ignominy of the gubernatorial stand puckered in to full bloom (to GOP Chairman George Bloom: forgive the pun) last month when the Governor presented his budget for the new fiscal year, forced to face the inescapable fact that (to heavens to Betsy!) Pennsylvania would wind up this fiscal year with a—surplus of some $8 million-plus!

While this somewhat startling and indeed notable accomplishment was being toolied in proper fashion with appropriate horns, the next gubernatorial breath drove home the insistent contention that he had been able to balance the new budget only by incorporating in it this surplus.

(It was immediately thereafter that this column pointed out the school subsidy freeze killed in the past session by the Governor—and Mr. Lawrence's insistence last year that funds were not available.)

It will indeed be something more than interesting to see what ultimately develops from move on the part of the House Republican legislative bloc.

Look at it this way: House Republicans hold 101 seats—106 votes needed to pass legislation, which means of course that five Democratic administration votes will be required.

This is an election year for every one of the 210 House seats—and in this election year, will Democratic House members line up with the Lawrence administration in its adamant anti-school-subsidy freeze stand, or face the potential wrath of voters back home whose local school districts are winding up on the subsidy short-change end?

Significant point: The school subsidy legislation going into legislative hopper this week now provides the big cue for this year's gubernatorial campaign!

The Allen-Scott Report

Washington — President Kennedy hopes to secure an important concession from Prime Minister Adoula at their White House meeting on the Congo today.

He is seeking assurances from the U.S.-backed Congolese leader that his central government bar shipments of strategic materials, including uranium, cobalt, diamonds and manganese, to the Sino-Soviet Communist bloc.

The President's foreign policy advisers say he wants a firm commitment from Adoula on this touchy trade question to head off new criticism in Congress against U.S. policies in the Congo.

Inside You And Yours

The Twister Syndrome

By Burton H. Fern, M.D.
Doubting Thomas? you can twist your way to the hospital? M.D.: That's right! Watch me Twist.

D.T.: Let's see—one foot forward, leaning your weight first on one leg, then on the other, and twisting your hips from side to side. I think you've got it.

M.D. My: loose foot twists back and forth the way you stamp out a lit cigarette.

D.T.: And you are swinging your arms in the opposite direction from your hips.

Say, you do a pretty mean Twist! How can this hurt anyone?

M.D.: Well, the spine isn't built to twist like taffy. I wonder how many strained backs and slipped disks start on the Twisting dance floor. British doctors expect a lot.

All In Back?

D.T.: Then the trouble's all in back of you?

M.D.: No, almost everyone feels a stitch in the side after twisting awhile, but the knee is the real danger spot.

D.T.: How? You don't twist it. You just bend it a little.

M.D.: But those twisting hips

yank the knee joint in all directions. Over-enthusiastic Twisting can tear a ligament, throw the kneecap out of joint and even tear a cartilage.

Cripples You

M.D.: Tiny, rubber-like disks on either side of the joint deepen the socket for the lower end of the thigh bone. Twisting a partly bent knee can crush and tear a cartilage, leaving you crippled for weeks. If it can't slide back into place, it has to be cut out in the operating room.

D.T.: I think you're all wet! I watch those teenagers dancing 'on TV' in the afternoon. They look pretty healthy to me!

M.D.: You think so? Tune in later and see who they wheel into the hospital emergency room on Doctor Killdare!

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

Walter Winchell

Man Reading His Mail

"Boston, Mass.: Dear Sir: The Boston Record American WW column had a contribution crediting a 1962 Russian dictionary as defining 'Khrushchev' as meaning an insect. She is wrong. Why didn't she name that dictionary? Incidentally the word is an adjective deriving from the noun 'Khrushch'.

"In a really old Complete Russian-English Dictionary by A. Alexandrov (published 1923 in Berlin, Germany), it is stated that 'Khrushch' means 'tenebrous, beetle'. Any child in Russia will tell you that 'Khrushch' is a beetle common in Central Europe during the month of May. Basil W. Kacedan, Counsellor at Law."

From Webster's New World Dictionary (American Language College edition): "BEETLE any of a number of related insects."

"Chicago: Dear WW: Have been watching every day for your reply, if any, to the leading editorial in our Chicago American blasting the bejars of editor of 'The Untouchables.' The editorial said it regretted 'that one of our columnists is the narrator' and that you should be ashamed because 'Chicago is not like that any more.' Oh, it was a darling. Ha, ha! Hasn't New York any more gangsters? Give Chicago a rest, please. Mrs. Lyons Eigen Kupcinet." Elliott!!!

"Jacksonville, Fla.: I recall a prediction you made in our Jacksonville paper many years ago after the end of World War II. That one day Japan and Germany would be our Allies. Today, what is an ally? A government that extends a hand with a burden of honey, the other hand flexed with a readiness to use a dirk in our back? Borrowing from Shakespeare: 'Ah that deceit should use such gentle shapes, and with a virtuous visor, hide deep vice.' Anyway, your prophecy came true. Sincerely yours, P.K. Wilson."

"Indianapolis: Please continue your 'Clips on a Shoulder' featured in our Indianapolis Star. What can private citizens do to stop foreign aid to enemy countries? Is there any way that I, as a housewife, can help you fight excessive spending? Sincerely, Mrs. E.C. (Patricia) Grande, Jr."

Ask your editor to ask your Senators and Congressmen.

"New York: Regarding the story featured by many newspapers recently about the 'mysterious' better who allegedly won $100,000 at the Santa Anita racetrack on the horse 'Justa Drizzle.' It is publicity. It never happened. Because (1) any such purchase of Daily Double tickets (wheeling 12 horses in the first race with one in the second) would have excited the Seller and men in the money room. (2) The Seller would have bought tickets for himself and so would 99 other men behind the windows. (3) In minutes the tip would have been all over the track and the price would have been cut perhaps 3 to 1.

"Justa Drizzle," the supposedly hot horse, was 10th choice in the Win Pool and 9th in the Daily Double payoff. No big deal. If that horse had been bet double (as the stories related) he then should have been 5th choice in the DD. Truly Yours, Geoffrey Ford."

Up to the time this went to press the "unidentified winner" had not cashed in his alleged tickets.

"Newark, N. J. Dear Walter: What do you do—save all the laughs for The N. Y. Mirror? In the Chips on a Shoulder column the other day you had a dilly about the censors out West attempting to banish Tarzan and Jane 'because they never married' and you hm'd: 'What about Snow White who lived with 7 Dwarfs?' It was deleted from your space in The Newark Star-Ledger. I don't think it's fair to us Jerseyites. We like a chuckle once in a while, too. Sincerely, Mabel Lyons."

Mabel, you will be pleased to know that our Newark paper to-date has donated over $108,000 to the Runyon Cancer Fund of which I am the editor.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

There are times when the religious ceremony of a wedding is almost overshadowed by the reception which follows, and guests arriving at the church 15 minutes late may be just in time for the recessional.

But there was no danger of that at Maries Rumsey's wedding to P. K. Cassells on Saturday which was a complete church service, emphasized even more by the fact that hymns supplanted the traditional wedding music.

It was impressive and meaningful and the husbands who got poked by their wives weren't impatient — just curious. Anyway, everybody was the better for it, and a happier wedding you never did see — nor one with more top hats.

Bundling a daughter off with a scotchman to live in Pakistan might be sort of worrisome except the Rumseys had a chance to get to know and appreciate his whole family during the time they were in this country — and besides Maries and P. K., won't be leaving for good for a month.

But with an international wedding, there were also international complications and it practically took an act of Congress to get one of the bridesmaids' dresses out of customs. P. K.'s sister is teaching in Toronto and somewhere along the line her dress got caught in the red tape of customs.

By train and bus, Congressional intervention Fran Shinn finally delivered the dress just two hours before the wedding; and miracle of miracles, it fit perfectly.

Everything fit perfectly, including the fact that I had a chance to slip in for a moment on the wedding reception upstairs, a story you still have to look forward to, and the fact that yesterday was Linda Rumsey's 21st birthday.

The only trouble is that the social scene is suffering a severe let-down this week or would be if this weren't the week with a first Monday and Tuesday when all the clubs meet like mad. Upward and onward!

Memory Lane Dance For Music Parents

The second annual "Memory Lane Dance" sponsored by the Stroud Union Music Parents will be held on Feb. 10 from 9 to 11:30 in the Stroudsburg High School gymnasium.

Recorded and live dance tunes of the "Big Band" era will be featured. The committee in charge promises nostalgic memories for those who remember "The Swing's the Thing."

Sisterhood Membership Luncheon Tues.

A membership luncheon will be held by the Sisterhood of the Temple Israel on Tuesday at 1 p.m.

The special luncheon will be followed by a play "Bride Meets Groom" with all members invited to the wedding.

Book Review For Guild At Pocono Lake

Pocono Lake — The new president of the Women's Guild of the United Church of Christ, Clarissa Smith, presided at the meeting this week in the church auditorium. Programs for the year were outlined and printed copies will be distributed.

Their major project for the year will be "Keep Them Warm" kits to be sent to migratory workers. The group also will send rehabilitation kits of health supplies to be sent overseas and garden seeds to be sent to the Navaho Indians.

Mrs. Smith reviewed the book "Let Your Heart Be Broken," the story of missionaries and their trials in the Orient.

Present were Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Meissner, Mrs. Clarissa Smith, Mrs. Pauline Dunlap, Mrs. Florence Fischer, Mrs. Nora George, Mrs. Mary Dyson, Mrs. Bernice Dyson, Mrs. Ernest Wittman, Mrs. Kurt Gehm, Mrs. Bessie Kinsley, Mrs. Mary Majer, Mrs. Jeanne Miller, Mrs. Ruth Dunlap, Mrs. Mary Miller.

A. F. Everitt Class

The A. F. Everitt Class of St. John's Lutheran Church will meet Wednesday night at 8 at the home of Mrs. Ruth Shiffer, 1742 Pokoma Ave.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Rumsey Bride Of Patrick K. Cassells At Christ Church

In the full liturgical ceremony of the Episcopal Church, Miss Mary Elizabeth Rumsey became the bride of Patrick Ketchen Cassells of Dacca, Pakistan, at Christ Church, Stroudsburg, on Saturday afternoon at 3.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John L. Rumsey of Stroudsburg. Mr. Cassells is the son of Mrs. D. A. R. Cassells and the late Dr. Cassells of Strathkness, Scotland.

Rev. Charles H. Park officiated at sacraments of marriage and communion, against a background of candles at the altar and in the choir screen. The altar vases were filled with white flowers.

Musical background for the service was of English church music sung by a quartette composed of Mrs. John Sibley, Mrs. Robert Wolbert, Robert Kranendonk and Robert Wolbert, and arranged by Richard Matlock, organist.

"Praise My Soul" was the processional with Everett Titcom's "Missa Pervis" in D minor as the offertory; Henry Purcell's

"Rejoice in the Lord Always" as the recessional; and Purcell's "Trumpet" as the voluntary.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin with a chapel train. Her bouffant veil of tulle was held by a single satin gardenia and she carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias.

Her sister, Miss Linda Noeholm Rumsey, was her maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Anne Cassells, sister of the bridegroom, of Toronto, Canada, and Miss Anne Peirce of Chest-nut Hill.

They wore floor-length gowns of apricot brocade in Renaissance panels falling to form back panels falling to form slight trains, matching bands held brief veils. Their cascade bouquets were of Talisman roses.

James P. Rumsey, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Charles Bruch of Washington, D. C., Paul Schlough, Thomas Ingraham, and John Pearson Jr., a cousin of the bride.

Serving as acolytes were James Pierson and John Howard.

The bride's mother wore a dress of beige lace with a matching beige hat and shoes and a corsage of cymbidium orchids in the same shade. The bridegroom's mother wore a suit of brown with gold threads, a brown gold hat and a corsage of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Penn-Stroud, where backed rhododendron formed a background for the receiving line. The tiered wedding cake was topped by white and coral rosebuds. A tall many-branched candelabra lighted the refreshment table and the individual tables were set with white candles surrounded by coral and white flowers.

Tommy Cullens orchestra furnished the music for dancing.

Leaving for their wedding trip to the Virgin Islands, the bride wore a light blue knit suit. They plan to return to Stroudsburg on Feb. 17 and will be here until they sail for Scotland on March 3.

After a visit in Scotland, they will make their home in Dacca, Pakistan where Mr. Cassells is associated with Jute Industries.

The bride, a graduate of Pine Manor Junior College and Elmira College, took graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania School of Social Work. She served with the Friends Service Committee in Pakistan where she and her husband met.

The bride was the guest of honor at a number of pre-nuptial parties including luncheons given by Mrs. Charles E. Reinhardt, Mrs. Harold Ingraham, Mrs. Charles Mott, Mrs. Walter Dreher and Mrs. T. I. Metzgar, a tea given by Dr. Charlotte Jordan, and a reception for the bride couple given by Dr. and Mrs. Evan Reese.

New Parsonage Authorized For Grace Lutheran

The congregation of the Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church voted to empower the church council to demolish the parsonage on Lackawanna Ave., and build another on a site to be selected. The ground on which the old parsonage now stands will be converted to a parking lot next to the church, large enough to accommodate 50 cars.

The action came at the annual congregational meeting when five new members were elected to the vestry of the church council.

Elected were Mrs. Philip Ehrig, deaconess; John W. Brink, Martin Mery and Dr. James Reed, deacons; and attorney Elmer D. Christine, trustee.

They were installed at the 11 o'clock service yesterday morning. Completing their respective terms of office on the vestry were Mrs. William J. Palmer Jr., deaconess; Frank J. Forrie Jr., Elson S. Smith and Emmett W. Flyte, deacons and Att. John J. Pentz Jr., trustee.

The bride's mother wore a dress of beige lace with a matching beige hat and shoes and a corsage of cymbidium orchids in the same shade. The bridegroom's mother wore a suit of brown with gold threads, a brown gold hat and a corsage of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Penn-Stroud, where backed rhododendron formed a background for the receiving line. The tiered wedding cake was topped by white and coral rosebuds. A tall many-branched candelabra lighted the refreshment table and the individual tables were set with white candles surrounded by coral and white flowers.

ESSC Rally Too Late

Freshman Led Kutztown's 80-73 Win Over Warriors

By CURT PRINS
Sports Editor

EAST Stroudsburg State College found its defense in the second half Saturday night at Normal Hill, but by the time the Warriors had regrouped, Kutztown had an 80-73 victory.

The well-balanced Golden Bears collected their eighth win in 10 games and the fourth victory in six Pennsylvania State College Conference games. Bloomsburg and Mansfield are the only conference teams with victories over the Bears.

Kutztown is loaded with veterans but it was a freshman, Don Watson, that supplied the early Bear drive.

Watson, who played for Bethlehem High last year, scored 22 points, 16 in the first half. All of Watson's points were on field goals. He connected on six of his first nine shots and also grabbed more than half of his team's rebounds.

Spark Second Half

Veterans Denny Bonser and Ron Lauchner had 19 points apiece for the winners and it was their second half work that prevented East Stroudsburg from pulling out the victory.

East Stroudsburg in going down to its sixth loss in 13 games, never led and was down by 10 points with less than five minutes gone. The Warriors battled back to within a point with about 10 minutes left, but Watson's constant scoring sent Kutztown into a 40-31 half-time lead.

The Warriors used several zone combinations in the first half but they couldn't find the one that would stop Watson. Midway through the second half, the Warriors went to a man to man set-up and also put on a zone-press. The new defense helped but there wasn't enough time for the Warriors to catch up.

The Warriors, who have banked heavily on a fast break this season, never seemed to get a consistent break working.

"We were tired," said coach Mort Hochheiser after the game. Hochheiser was not offering any excuses for the loss but he pointed out that his co-captains, Russ Hopewell and Scott Weaver are both student teaching, an 8-4 job and then putting in two hours of basketball practice a day.

Only One Game

"We only have one game this week," said Hochheiser, "and I think the rest will be the best thing for us."

Junior John Murphy was the Warriors' top scorer Saturday. Murphy had 19 points, 14 of them coming in the second half.

Hopewell had 18 points, 10 in the second half, and an 18.8 per game average.

Hopewell needs only 110 points in the Warriors' last eight games to snap the four-year scoring record of Charley German set from 1954-58. German hit 1,412 points.

If Hopewell continues his present scoring pace, he will pass German's mark on Feb. 27, when the Warriors' face Cheyney at Normal Hill.

Unless Hopewell gets hurt, it is almost certain that he will crack the record, for he will still have two games remaining after Cheyney.

Weaver had 15 points against Kutztown to hold his spot as the club's second leading scorer. It was one of the worst foul shooting nights of the season for the Warriors, who made only nine of 20 free throw attempts.

Buckeyes Roll Easily

Ranked Court Teams Show Why They Earned Ratings

By JIM HACKLEMAN

College basketball's top 10, with one surprising exception, proved their right to their rankings last week with a sweep of victories.

In a program of 20 games—many of them in the vital category—the rated squads won 19. Only fifth-ranked Southern California was topped, by cross-town rival and Big Five Conference leader UCLA Friday night, 73-59.

Ohio State's smooth and powerful Buckeyes, unchanged as the nation's best, remained the only major team in the unbeaten class by following up a 94-73 decision over Purdue with a 97-61 rout of Northwestern Saturday night. The Bucks now are 16-0.

Wildcats Get 16th

Kentucky (16-1) pushed its winning string to 15 straight with victories over Georgia Tech, Georgia and Florida during the week, then the second-ranked Wildcats took Saturday off. Southern Cal also was idle Saturday, but the remainder of the Top 10 were busy.

Northwestern managed to open up a 3-0 lead on Ohio State at Columbus, but then the Buckeyes began to roll—pumping in 15 straight points. Jerry Lucas led that spurt, and also was high for the Bucks with 24 points.

Third-ranked Cincinnati (17-2) and ninth-ranked Bradley (14-3) kept up their hot Missouri Valley title duel with victories. The Bearcats won handily at North Texas, 75-50, and the Braves' foul shooting carried them over St. Louis 72-67.

Fourth-ranked Kansas State (15-2) rocked Nebraska 72-53 but still remained runner-up in the Big Eight behind Colorado, which beat Oklahoma State 54-39. Duke, rated No. 6 and 14-2, edged further ahead in the Atlantic Coast Conference, trouncing North Carolina 79-57.

Duquesne, the only independent in the top 10, smashed St. Francis (N.Y.) 99-43. Eighth-ranked Bowling Green (15-1) swamped Miami (Ohio) in their Mid-American Conference game, 94-61, and the

L-N League Tables Bear, Card Entry

IT WILL be at least October before Pleasant Valley and Pocono High Schools have a chance to enter the Lehigh-Northampton athletic league.

At its recent meeting, the league voted to table the applications of the two schools along with one from North Dunc.

The league also re-elected Jack Kist, East Stroudsburg High football coach, as president.

The league does not want to admit any more members until it straightens out scheduling and travel problems.

The league also voted to continue its split-division basketball schedule for another year, although several schools were not in favor of the two divisions.

The opposed schools said the two divisions hurt the gate receipts of non-division games because the fans wanted to see the teams playing for a division position.

Kist appointed a committee to study the division problem and to also look into the possible admission of the three new applicants.

Berry Earns 3rd Victory For Mounts

DAVE BERRY scored his third win in four bouts Saturday but it wasn't enough to prevent Stroud Union from losing a 46-8 wrestling decision to Easton.

The Easton squad was made up mainly of second unit wrestlers but several of the Rovers had performed for the varsity.

Berry and Dutch Grimm earned all of the Mountaineer points. Berry pinned Tom Mashman in 1:48 of their 141 pound bout, using a reverse half-nelson and body press to record the fall.

Grimm scored the other Mountaineer points, earning a draw with Jim Stonebeck in a 115-pound match.

Fourth Loss

It was the fourth loss in as many outings for the Mounties, who are in their first season of the sport.

The next Stroud Union match is Thursday night at home against East Stroudsburg.

Wall Earns $1,200 For Ninth Position

By BOB MYERS

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Arnold Palmer fashioned a brilliant string of five straight birdies on the first nine Sunday, wrecked the opposition, and steamed on in to win the $50,000 Palm Springs Golf Classic.

"The steady-nerved Palmer wound up with a 3-under-par 69 and a 90-hole total of 342 in capturing this rich event for the second time in three years.

En route to the win and the top money of $5,300, Palmer, 32, ruined the hopes of U.S. Open champion Gene Littler to take his second straight tournament in two weeks. Littler, who won the $30,000 San Francisco International, went into a tie with Jay Hebert for second place at 345.

Hot Finish

The site was the Bermuda Dunes Country club, an oasis of green in this flat desert playground. An estimated 8,000 golf fans swarmed the fairways under a broiling, 90-degree sun to watch the fifth and final round.

Littler started out with a 2-stroke lead over Gardner Dickinson and a 3-stroke advantage over Palmer. But Palmer began his birdie barrage on the fifth hole. He caught Littler on the eighth hole, then passed him on the ninth when he sank an 8-foot putt for a birdie three, and Littler took a bogey when he 3-putted from 25 feet, missing the last one from five.

Littler wound up with a 75 and Dickinson's 74 placed him in a tie with Tommy Aaron and Al Geiberger.

Par for the 7,010-yard Bermuda test is 36—66—72.

Tied at 347 were Don January, with a 65, and British Ryder Cup player Neil Coles, with a 67.

South Africa's Gary Player wound up with a 71 for a 352 and the 1961 U.S. Amateur champion, newly-turned pro Jack Nicklaus, had a 75 for 365.

Sam Snead, with one of the larger galleries at his back, took a 70 for 350.

Dick Mayer finished with a 72 for 349—but far more important, he kept the entire $50,000 he won for a hole-in-one Saturday. He would have had to split it if anyone else had made an ace.

Dear Abby

Trying For Six!

Dear Abby: I wear a size 12 dress, have silver blonde hair and people don't believe me when I tell them I am 61 years old. I have had five husbands, but don't jump at any conclusions. I was divorced only once and had four husbands die on me. The man who is my problem at the moment is a 50-year-old bachelor. He is well-to-do, refined and hard to get. He can never get away to see me until after his mother has gone to bed, which is about 9:30 P.M. She has him under her thumb, but good. Oh, brother, talk about a mamma's boy! How do I land this one?

think again. Enjoy your blessed singleness.

Dear Abby: I have always been able to make my own decisions, but this time I would like some help. How old should a girl be when her dolls are put away? My twelve-year-old daughter raised a terrible fuss because, when she was at school, I rearranged her bedroom and put all her dolls away. I think it helps a girl to grow up to take away all the childish toys of her childhood. (She has had some of those dolls since she was 4.) I have had several of my friends tell me I am wrong. I would like your opinion.

dolls, just like to keep them around for ornamental—and sentimental reasons.

Dear Abby: My problem concerns my mother-in-law by a previous marriage, my first husband being deceased.

She has become "Chief Sitting Bull" in my house. She pops in on me before noon—with no notice—and she sits here until 8 or 9 o'clock at night. It seems she always comes when I have something else planned. Not wanting to offend her, I quietly cancel my plans and attempt to entertain her. She doesn't have many friends, and goes practically nowhere, so she is not very good company. How can I get her to let me know in advance when she's coming? Her visits are becoming more frequent.

SITTING BULL'S VICTIM
DEAR VICTIM: Take "Sitting Bull" by the horns and ask her to let you know when she is coming so you can plan your time. When you "quietly" cancel your plans, you give her the mistaken impression that she can visit any old time because you, too, just sit around doing nothing.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MOLLY:
Yes, money talks. But it doesn't always talk back!

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Monday, February 5, 1962
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)
—Astrologer generally astute abilities you can rely on several, if not all, successful and rewarding solutions this week. But the added edge of time and patience must exist. Good going!

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)
Too much of the same thing deadens enthusiasm! Let daily we come up to our wits, ideas, and associates, not realizing that we would truly miss them were we to lose them.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)
May again find yourself striving to overcome some little or "minor" matters, annoyances. Look at them carefully, they may hold more meaning than you think. Keep mind clear.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)
Relatives, irritation may not be as reliable; review note where you would be wrong. But be cheerful, this day wants happy achievement, and the endeavor not returns will be the most stimulating.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)
If you feel you have gone astray in some matter, go back, stop, reconsider, re-treat steps if it will eventually save time and energies, and if often done. Smart to be cautious.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)
Again more co-operation and patience stressed if the right sort of attitude would be enjoyed by able you. Out front are; executive ability, completeness, neatness.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)
Efficiency, plus inner happiness and confidence aims toward the higher goals will put you well in advance of many, and keep your status above the more troublesome waters. Spend wisely.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)
Mars' dandy aspect promotes quickness, tells you to lie on your back, recognize the best from the less relevant, and NOT to give up anything worth while — long-sought findings are very sweet.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius)
Junior favorably strong. But, condition in some ways, you should like (can relish) it. A surprise two in the making, you can offer one to someone else to enjoy.

December 24 to January 20 (Capricorn)
— Usually when we wish to do our best, we are pressed for time and by minimal meaning details. Control emotions, feelings, be philosophical about matters and day will perk up.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)
Don't be careless with tools, machinery, money, your own energies. Today's living and stress-tent us to forget the "rules of the road" in various ways. Pledge yourself prudence.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)
— Better-than-average indications, still you must put most of the verve and incentive into the day yourself. Opportunity to progress in pleasant manner just ahead, work for it.

THE PORTLAND Lion's Club met at the Village Barn, 6:30 p.m. Thursday. Paul Sigafoss, Charles Kessler, co-chairman distributed tickets for the next Club Fund raising project. William Rommel and Harold Kinney, announced that the reconditioning and painting of the Lions waste baskets were completed in the area. The club purchased a pair of glasses for a needy person in the area. A moment of silence was observed for respect to the late Dr. Eugene A. Rushin of Portland, a former member of the club.

Robert Jewell was appointed a delegate to the International Lions convention at Nice, France, June 20 to 23. Bert Hoosier, gave the invocation. Frank Reed, song leader; Bert Transue, piano accompanist. 18 members were present. A guest, Charles Reagle, of Richmond, Lions Club, Harry Seaman's birthday was observed. Morris Fazio presided.

The next meeting will be at Cherry Valley Inn, Delaware Water Gap, at 6:30 p.m., Feb. 15.

Will Pay Cost
THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—The Netherlands government has offered to pay 25 per cent of the cost of building new churches in Holland. Housing Minister J. Van Aartsen says the proposed subsidy won't affect church freedom or independence.

Italy's Population
ROME (AP)—Italy had a population of 50.4 million as of last Oct. 15, census officials report.

TV Highlights

SPECIAL ATTENTION should be paid to "About Time" tonight from 8:30 to 9:30 on the NBC network. This is the eighth program in the Bell System Science Series which began in 1956 with "Our Mr. Sun" and has since presented features on weather, cosmic rays, genetics, the alphabet, the five senses and blood.

At 8 on chs. 2 and 10, Cara Williams plays a dual role as "Pete and Gladys." Gladys who looks remarkably like Michele Tabour, French dancing star, agrees to pose as Miss Tabour when the temperamental dancer disappears. Harry Morgan co-stars.

On "The Rifleman" Mark McCall gets his first "crush" and his first kiss when he meets Sally Walker Johnny Crawford, featured as Mark, will also make his television singing debut on the program, 8:30 to 9 chs. 6 and 7.

"About Time" is a one-hour color documentary film, using dramatization, animated cartoons, lecture and scientific demonstration to explain the measurement of time, today and in the past. The program analyzes calendars as well as timepieces. Other subjects are Einstein's Relativity Theory, the history of clocks and other timepieces (such as sundials), the use of radio in time telling and accuracy of various kinds of time telling. Dr. Frank Baxter makes his eighth appearance on this distinguished series, (8:30-9:30, chs. 3 and 4).

On "The Andy Griffith Show" Barney Fife (Don Knotts), trying to get information from a prisoner by posing as a felon, unwittingly lets the man escape. From 9:30 to 10, chs. 2 and 10. Next, from 10 to 10:30, Chalk Hennessy agrees to take Martha dancing to the music of Les Brown and his band, but complications develop. Jackie Cooper and Abby Dalton star, Les Brown and Les Brown, Jr. are guests.

From 9:30 to 11 on chs. 3 and 4, the "Hallmark Hall of Fame" presents a special live color broadcast of "Arsenic and Old Lace" by Joseph Kesselring in a television adaptation by Robert Hartung.

Tony Randall, Dorothy Stickney, Mildred Natwick, Tom Bosley, George Voskovec and Special Guest Boris Karloff, star in this 90 minute show. George Schaefer produced and directed this version of one of the modern theatre's best comedies.

On "Ben Casey," chs. 6 and 7 from 10 to 11, Dr. Casey detects signs of a serious nervous disorder in a surgeon about to operate. Jack Klugman portrays Dr. Philip Walton.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon will pay a return visit to "The Jack Paar Show" tonight. Mr. Nixon last appeared on the program when he was a Presidential candidate. Also on the guest list tonight are Dr. Margaret Mead and Bob Newhart. Chs. 3 and 4, 11:15 to 1.

The firm also forfeited $8,000 in fees paid in connection with the examination.

Smith said it will be necessary for the firm's agents to take new examinations upon payment of additional fees. He stressed that the test will be altered so it will not include questions asked in the previous examination.

How can I learn to pray?

THE TRUTH
IN THIS GREAT BOOK
CAN TEACH
YOU TO PRAY
EFFECTIVELY

You can learn how to pray, how to commune with God, how to listen for His guidance, if you will read with an unprejudiced, receptive thought the truth contained in this great book, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy.

You may read or borrow Science and Health free of charge at any Christian Science Reading Room. The book can be purchased in red, green, or blue binding at $3 and will be sent postpaid on receipt of check or money order.
